A photographer has captured a series of adorable images of a cat and mouse playing together last weekend (27 September 2015).

Irish photographer Paul Mealey was shocked to see his rescue cat, Lala, playing with a mouse - and not trying to kill it.

The two-year-old cat seemed to have 'missed the memo' and forgotten that a cat and mouse are supposed to be enemies.

In the images Lala can be seen lovingly playing with the mouse in the garden, at Paul's home in Westport Co Mayo.

Paul said: "I'm a professional photographer and I was coming home after a job - hence I had my camera ready with a telephoto lens on - when the cat appeared with the mouse.
