CHISINAU, MOLDOVA - SEPTEMBER 29: Former Moldovan President Igor Dodon, now leader of the pro-Russian, socially conservative Party of Socialists of the Republic of Moldova, is seen during a protest outside Parliament in Chisinau, Moldova, on September 29, 2025. Final results from the parliamentary election showed the ruling Party of Action and Solidarity (PAS) winning 50.1% of the vote, while the pro-Russian Patriotic Bloc gained 24.2%, securing PAS a decisive majority and strengthening Moldova's pro-EU course.
