EXCLUSIVE:

EXCLUSIVE:September 9, 2004 Cambridge, Massachusetts, United States: Jeffrey Epstein (2nd from left) at a dinner he hosted at Harvard University. With Epstein at dinner are (L-R) attorney and Harvard professor Alan Dershowitz, evolutionary biologist and sociobiologist Robert Trivers, 27th President of Harvard University Lawrence Summers, and an unidentified girl. Epstein was at Harvard for an annual End of the Summer event, the Program for Evolutionary Dynamics. In 1982, Epstein founded his own financial management firm, J. Epstein & Co. managing the assets of clients with more than US$1 billion in net worth. In June 2008, after Epstein pleaded guilty to a single state charge of soliciting prostitution from girls as young as 14, he was sentenced to 18 months in prison. Instead of being sent to state prison like the majority of sex offenders convicted in Florida, Epstein was housed in a private wing of the Palm Beach County stockade. He was able to hire his own security detail and was allowed "work release" to his downtown office for up to 12 hours a day six days a week. He served 13 months before being released for a year of probation. While on probation he was allowed numerous trips on his corporate jet to his homes in Manhattan and the U.S. Virgin Islands. At release, he was registered in New York State as a level three (high risk of reoffense) sex offender, a lifelong designation. Epstein has been a registered sex offender since 2008. On July 6, 2019, Epstein was arrested at Teterboro Airport in New Jersey on sex trafficking charges. About a dozen FBI agents broke down the door to Epstein's Manhattan townhouse with search warrants. Two days later, prosecutors with the Public Corruption Unit of the Southern District of New York charged him with sex trafficking and conspiracy to traffic minors for sex. Court documents allege that at least 40 underage girls were brought into Epstein's mansion for sexual encounters. Judge Kenneth Marra is currently decid
