Caption

Exclusive - Josiane Chevalier, Prefect of the Bas-Rhin and the Grand Est, patrols the streets of Strasbourg in the presence of General Vincent Giraud, Military Governor of Strasbourg during the presentation of the sentinel operation. The soldiers provide protection for the French as part of their anti-terrorist mission, in support of the internal security forces. Following the terrorist attacks in France, including that of Samuel Paty, as part of the Vigiepirate plan, operation Sentinelle has been upgraded to level two. This operation has increased from 3,000 men to 7,000 men on French territory, including 150 additional men in Strasbourg. November 17, 2020, in Strasbourg, Northeastern France.
