HE'LL RE-EGRET THAT...A pair of egrets battle it out midair. The two white birds fought after they got too close to one another while fishing for food.
Boris Droutman took these pictures at the Bolsa Chica Ecological Reserve in Huntington Beach, California, USA. Describing them, the 64 year old said: "There was a mini fish feeding frenzy going on, and about a dozen snowy egrets were participating alongside a half dozen brown pelicans, cormorants, terns, and gulls.
