Actress Jamie Lee Curtis recreated a sexy dance scene from one of her old movies — for a TV chat show appearance.

The 66-year-old did her iconic aerobic fitness scene, originally performed with John Travolta , from the 1985 film Perfect.

This time on the Tonight Show Starring Jimmy Fallon she got back in the leotard.

But this time Fallon played the Travolta role and the pair go through a performance of outlandish japes down while Jamie is leading the class.

These included suggestively eating a pizza, pouring champagne over a pyramid of glasses balanced on a tray, reviving a patient with a defibrillator and Fallon releasing a white dove from his bulging crotch.

Fallon, 50, had introduced the segment as never-before-seen footage of the shoot.
