Caption

September 11, 2001 - New York, New York, United States: Firemen searching for survivors through debris after the Twin Towers were hit by hijacked planes. A lonely tree still stands having survived the attacks. Muslim terrorists flew two commercial airliners into the Twin Towers of the World Trade Center 9/11/2001. Nearly 3,000 people died and hundreds were wounded in the attack and the subsequent collapse of the towers after burning jet fuel weakened the buildings' structure. The Pentagon was attacked in the same manner and a failed attempt was made on the White House. The third plane was taken down by it's passengers in a field in Pennsylvania. Osama Bin Laden and Al Qaeda claimed responsibility for the attacks. (Matthew McDermott/Polaris) (Matthew McDermott/Polaris) (FOTO:DUKAS/POLARIS)
