Caption
Participants in the Anti-Capitalist Pride March under the slogan 'Community is Salvation' march through the streets of Krakow, Poland, on September 13, 2025. They draw attention to issues such as social inequality, the climate catastrophe, police violence, and a government that fails to keep its promises on abortion and civil partnerships. They emphasize that companies make their alliances dependent on current governments and profits, and that the march is organized grassroots by the community without corporate support.
