Caption

January 10, 2015 - Pyongyang, North Korea: Top leader of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea (DPRK) Kim Jong Un (front) inspecting the newly-built Pyongyang City Mushroom Farm. After being briefed on the farm before a map showing its panoramic view, Kim Jong Un went round various parts of the farm to learn in detail about its construction and production. He urged all provinces, cities and counties to build such modern mushroom production bases as the Pyongyang City Mushroom Farm and meticulously organize the work to secure species of mushroom and substratum suitable to their local features and introduce advanced science and technology.
