September 7, 2014, Mariupol, Donetsk Oblast, Ukraine. A tank is moving along the front-lines after heavy shelling of their positions. With the cease-fire signed in Minsk on the 6th of September, the Ukrainian president Mr. Porochenko has ordered his forces battling pro-Russian separatist to stop fighting at 6PM local time. Though both parties have agreed to stop fighting heavy shelling hit the Eastern outskirts of the pro-government port of Maruipol, hitting army positions, though causing no casualties. The shelling was the heaviest in Mariupol since the rebels have taken the upper-hand in the region in the past two weeks. (Jonathan Alpeyrie/Polaris Images) (FOTO:DUKAS/POLARIS)
