Soldiers from the Iraqi army march on the frontline of the battle between Iraqi security forces and Islamic State (IS) militants in the town of Qayyarah, south of Mosul, Iraq, on Oct. 18, 2016. Iraqi security forces on Tuesday recaptured more villages from the Islamic State (IS) militants, as part of a major offensive aimed at liberating the city of Mosul, the last major IS stronghold in Iraq, a security source said.
