Loving parents greet their daughter and two grand children Alex and James on their return from Australia with welcome home banner at Heathrow Terminal 2

Street artist Ben Eine creates 'Welcome Home' signs at Heathrow Airport, London, UK - 06 Dec 2016

London street artist Ben Eine was at Heathrow this morning creating personalised welcome home banners for families welcoming loved ones back for Christmas. This Christmas, Heathrow is giving every passenger the chance to have their own heartfelt reunion in arrivals just as teddy bears Doris and Edward did in their Christmas film. To celebrate those tender moments, the airport has partnered with prolific London-based street artist, Ben Eine, to create a range of personalised banners, for family and friends to make greeting their loved ones extra special this year.
